
Stress scenario is a conditional stress test, not a forecast. Operational and construction energy are reported in separate panels and satisfy the budget identity.