
The four arms change human demography and AI pressure separately. The baseline-human arms are subject to the finite-horizon bound; extinction in the fast-human arm is not evidence about baseline human demography.