
This measure was constructed after exploratory runs to exercise the extinction boundary. It is not pre-registered and must not be read as a forecast or as evidence about real-world extinction risk.